Home"!

Blending acoustic folk, pop, with a touch of rock, Alexander Mills entertains international audiences with his unique sound. The musician has opened for Kenny "Babyface" Edmonds (Barbados Jazz Festival) and toured in major cities such as Ontario, New York, Nashville, and London.

Mills was born in Barbados (now residing in Australia), and has been surrounded by the brightest in the industry. From recording with Grammy award winning producer/engineer Neal Cappellino (Vince Gill, Darius Rucker, Dolly Parton & Brad Paisley) to collaborating with Grammy nominated songwriter Amanda Williams (Garth Brooks & George Jones). Mills' focus on live performance skills has led to him learning from one of the world's top live music producers, Tom Jackson (Taylor Swift, Band Perry). He has also collaborated with well-known Caribbean talents such as DJ Bubbles (producer for Rupee) and producer Chris Allman.

When he isn't writing songs or playing guitar, Mills enjoys spending time with his wife and son. He loves skateboarding and watching television shows like Game of Thrones, Ghost Adventures, and Narcos. Mills is also an avid reader citing Tribe of Mentors by Tim Ferris and Crush It by Gary Vaynerchuk as two of his personal favorites.
